JACKSONVILLE, ILLINOIS, FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 17, 1904.

DEATH LIST INCREASING

NEARLY SIX HUNDRED BODIES RECOVERED

Police and Health Department Estimate One Thousand Lives Were Lost by the Burning of Steamer General Slocum.

New York, June 16.—With unceasing efforts search is going on for the bodies of those who perished yesterday on the General Slocum. What the list of victims will total scarce one dares to venture a guess, but whatever the number may be there is hardly a parallel in the period of time. The police and health departments have placed the number as high as 1,000 and more, but to night it would seem the maximum fatality will not largely exceed 700.

All day long, from sunrise until darkness shut off even the melancholy satisfaction of watching for the dead, anxious searchers kept up their eternal vigilance, and at dusk there had been recovered 517 bodies, for the greater part women and children, mothers who had weeks ago planned that fatal outing for their children; little ones who had longed for the coming of the happy day.

Up to dusk 550 bodies had passed through the morgue and of these more than three hundred were identified. Down by the river, where the boats unloaded their dead, thousands gathered throughout the day, troops leading to the morgue were blocked and only with difficulty could the police keep clear the passages leading to the long rows of coffins for those who came to search for the missing.

Up the sound where the bulk of the Slocum lies submerged scores of small craft added tugs in grappling for victims. Divers went down time and time again and when their work ended for the day they declared there were no more bodies in the wreck. A score of times a diver reappeared after his plunge with the body of a woman or a child. Two of them coming to the surface together on one occasion had in their arms two little girls—sisters—clashed in each other's embrace, and their mother, it was thought, whose dead hand tightly clenched the skirt of one of them. As far as comes within their power the divers searched the wreck from stem to stern, but there were masses of broken timbers through which it was almost impossible to explore and it may be some will find a grave under those sunken timbers until the bulk is raised or the waters of the sound wash away the last trace of wreckage.

It is believed many now reported missing are safe and eventually will be heard from by the officials who have the rescue work in hand. To night a surprising number of persons reported to these officials that they had been saved, thus cutting the list down considerably, as well as the probable mortality list.

SCENE AT THE HOMES.

St. Mark's German Lutheran church, the parishioners of which secured the General Slocum for a happy day's outing, stands out on East Sixth street between the Bowery and Second street. It drew its attendance from the territory bounded by East Houston street on the south, the Bowery on the north and Avenue A on the east. The district is old-fashioned and its reputation has shown little change, so far as nationality and characteristics go, for fifty years. It is one of the most orderly places in the city and while none there has made great wealth there is little real poverty.

No great general sorrow has reached it until now, but this blow has been frightful. All through the night lights shined in hundreds of windows and each light indicated a desolated home. Some hoped against hope that those who had happily departed in the morning might have been saved and would return and these kept sad and anxious vigil. In lower floors passersby saw men and women kneeling in prayer. Doctors hurried through the streets to disappear in doorways. A few of the injured had been able to return home, but they were not the only ones in need of medical aid. Mothers had become sick and all but crazed by the terrible suspense. In hundreds of homes sleep was unknown.

An idea of the terrible strain under which the people labored may be obtained from incidents in the neighborhood. Late last night a crowd of ten or twelve women rushed toward a young woman who lay motionless, and one of them, a woman who had been in the crowd, rushed to her side and clutched at her shoulder. With painful effort the girl turned her head. A glad cry escaped the woman. "Thank God!" she cried, "you are here." The girl put her arms about the old woman's neck and uttered the one word, "Mother."

The crowd cheered and then assisted the reunited ones to their home nearby.

LOST HIS ENTIRE FAMILY.

In front of the house of Edward Klein, 21 Avenue A, a sympathetic crowd was gathered this morning. He had lost his entire family. One, some white, some black, hung from many doors to day and the death emblems are being constantly added to.

Whispering groups about these houses so marked tell the tale of each particular tragedy.

CAPTAIN VAN SHACK'S STORY.
Half crazed after his terrible experience Capt. William Van Shack, of the ill-fated Slocum, lies in Lebanon hospital a prisoner. He was removed to the hospital from the Alexander street police station, and after he had collapsed. In reply to charges that he might have saved scores of lives had he heeded the vessel immediately after the fire was discovered, instead of running her up the river for nearly a mile to North Brothers Island, he said:

"I think there were about 1,400 passengers aboard the Slocum when she left the pier. I took them up the river slowly and was bearing over towards Sunken Meadows when my blood turned cold at the sight of fire issuing from the companionways. I sounded the alarm of fire and left the pilot house to direct the crew in fighting the flames. I was met by a terrible crush of panic-stricken people. The situation was beyond the control of any man. I stood powerless to stop the panic among the passengers. The flames spread like lightning. I ran back to the pilot house and shot the bow overboard toward North Brothers Island. Men, women and children were jumping overboard. My God, what a sight it was to me! I ran for the sampan of the island and continually signalled the engine to crowd on every pound of steam. I knew I could have saved some time by running into the docks on the west shore of the river, but I did not do this because I feared that the burning ship might cause one of the big gas tanks on the river front to explode. I figured wrong in making the longer run to North Brothers Island, and I have a lifetime to regret it. I did what I thought at the time was best."

"The flames were licking the pilot house until we struck the beach north of the island. Followed by my pilots I ran over to the rail and leaped into the river. I floundered about in the water for a long time, and then some one pulled me up on the shore. I do not think that five minutes elapsed from the time the fire was discovered to the time we ran the ship on the beach."

Although many of the bodies taken to the morgue were badly mutilated and the clothing in many cases almost entirely burned off, valuables have been taken from them and are in the keeping of city officials to the extent of $200,000 or more.

Mayor McClellan to day, after receiving messages of condolence from many sources, visited North Brother Island and later visited the morgue. He issued a proclamation to the citizens of New York and appointed a relief committee of prominent men.

The coroner's investigation will begin Monday next. The federal authorities as well as district attorney also will hold an investigation and the society for the prevention of cruelty to children has signified its intention to push the inquiry to the utmost.

Henry Heintz, 12 years old, who lost his mother and other relatives, is dumb because of the ordeal he went through.

DISASTER TO RUSSIAN ARMS

OUT MANEUVERED AND BADLY DEFEATED

Their Hope of Relieving the Pressure on Port Arthur Put to an End by Japanese—Other War News.

Tokio, June 16.—The Russian hope of relieving the pressure on Port Arthur by threatening the rear of General Oku, commander of the Japanese forces investing the Russian stronghold, came to an end yesterday at Telsu, a point on the railroad fifty miles north of Kichou and twenty-five miles north of Vafangow, when the Russians were outmaneuvered, enveloped and sweepingly defeated. They left over 500 dead on the field. The Japanese captured 300 prisoners and fourteen quick firing field guns. The Russians retreated hastily to the northward.

The Japanese officers aver that during the fighting a body of Russians appeared carrying a Japanese flag and that the Japanese artillery, deceived by this flag, ceased firing upon that particular body of Russians. The official dispatches from Japanese commanders made specific charges of this flag violation.

Early estimates of Japanese losses at Telsu say 1,000 men were killed or wounded.

The Japanese attacking force was divided into right and left columns and began an advance on Tuesday along both sides of the railroad. They encountered Russians east of Vafangow and drove them back. At a late hour in the afternoon the Russians held the line between Lung Wang Tiao and Ta Fang Shon. The Japanese artillery opened on this line and the Russians responded. Shelling continued for two hours, followed by the advance of the Japanese line to a position extending from Lung Chia Tung to Yu Ho Tun. Darkness put an end to the fighting. The Japanese dispatched a column to the westward toward Puchan for the purpose of covering the Russian right wing and to protect their left and rear.

During the night it became apparent that the Russians were being reinforced and it was decided to make a general attack in the morning to force the Russians into the ditch back of Telsu. When morning came it was discovered that the Russians held a line extending from Ta Fang Shon to Chang Tzu Shan with a force estimated at over two divisions. The Japanese planned to envelop the Russians near Telsu, they succeeding admirably. While the main Japanese force was moving north along the railroad columns were swung to left and right, finally converging at noon on the main Russian position. The Russians in this position were at a disadvantage, but they held it with a determination until three in the afternoon, when they were routed. The Japanese cavalry continued to pursue the enemy and probably inflicted considerable punishment.

The Japanese commander makes no estimate of the Russian losses, but says they were probably great. Among the Russian officers captured by the Japanese is a colonel of the fourth regiment rifle.

KUROKATA'S REPORT.

St. Petersburg, June 16.—General Kurokata reports to the emperor the details of an engagement with two divisions of the Japanese on the 14th, in which the Russians lost 22 officers, including Colonel Kheonstnow and Lieutenant Dragostoff, and 31 men killed and wounded.

Fighting was resumed early in the morning of the 15th south of Ta Fan Chou between Japanese Infantry and Russian cavalry. The dispatch breaks off abruptly, leaving the result in doubt, but the Russian cavalry had been repulsed and the Japanese were receiving reinforcements.

ATTACK ON TRANSPORTS.

Tokio, June 16.—The transport Hino, which has returned to Mohl, reports she encountered the Vladivostok squadron yesterday morning twenty miles west of the Island of Shire. The weather was foggy and the sea calm. The Hino turned and signalled to the Kanazawa. The boat took refuge inside the Island of Chiyot. Both signalled danger to the Hino, which also escaped. The Hino saw the transports Hittachi and Sade surrounded by Russian vessels.

All doubt as to the sinking of the transports Hittachi and Sade by Russians has been removed. Three hundred and ninety-seven survivors of the Hittachi arrived at Mohl and 153 survivors of the Sade arrived at Kikura. Details of the destruction of the transports and the full extent of casualties are not obtainable.

JAPS AFTER RUSSIANS.

New Chungking, June 16.—Firing has been heard distinctly in the direction of Kai Chou since last night. Two batteries of artillery rushed through town at midnight. The second division of General Kuroki's army was reported to be marching toward Kai Chou yesterday afternoon for the purpose of taking them in the rear. It is positively known that the Russian forces in the vicinity of Kai Chou are divided. The entire force numbers 25,000.

RUSSIANS DISAPPOINTED.

St. Petersburg, June 16.—Popular disappointment over the result of Stokholms fight, which it has been hoped might turn out to be a victory, is tempered somewhat by the knowledge that the Russian force was overwhelmed by numbers. The fierce character of the fight is made evident by the fact that the Russians were again forced to abandon their guns, their individual, as in previous encounters, the superiority of the Japanese artillery. The keenest interest is manifested in the reported advance of the Japanese from St. Yen with the intention of taking Stokholms in the rear. It is realized that if this report proves true the Russian commander may be unable to extricate himself and that if he should be cut off from Kurokata's main army the fate of the detachment would be sealed.

WAR REPORTS.

St. Petersburg, June 16.—The Vladivostok squadron has returned to Vladivostok.

MOORISH ROOFS

Are Landed at Tangier—American and British Protest—Captives in Danger.

Tangier, Morocco, June 16.—About four hundred Moorish troops of the worst type were landed here to day. They were sent by the sultan for the protection of Europe. These troops had an exceedingly bad reputation at Casa Blanca, whence they came to Tangier. Residents of this city are uneasy, as the troops have no discipline whatever and endanger life and property. Their arrival is exceedingly dangerous to the British and American authorities. The British and American authorities were ignorant of this move until the troops landed and protested strongly.

WIFE MURDERER ELECTROCUTED.

Columbus, Ohio, June 16.—Michael Schiller, of Youngstown, Ohio, wife murderer, was electrocuted in the penitentiary to night. It is reported the condemned man revived three times after the electric current had been applied.

A current of 1,750 volts was applied for fifty-three seconds, but after the physician pronounced him dead it was noticed he was breathing and the current again applied for forty seconds. He was again pronounced dead, taken from the chair and laid upon his floor. Signs of life were again discovered. Schiller was returned to the chair and 1,800 volts applied for a full minute, when for the third time he was pronounced dead.

ILLINOIS PRINTING CRATES.

Springfield, June 16.—The Illinois printing craters convention elected W. W. Clark, Chicago, president; vice president, W. S. Bush, Peoria; secretary-treasurer, J. A. Onyon, Peoria. Resolutions were adopted denouncing teaching of the printing trade to inmates of the Pontiac reformatory.

Butte, Mont., June 16.—The North Coast limited on the Northern Pacific, east bound, was held up by two bandits a mile east of Bearmouth to night. The express car was completely demolished by dynamite. The engineer was killed in a fight with the robbers. A brakeman was sent back to Bearmouth with the news of the holdup. A special was sent out from Missoula. Bloodhounds have been sent to the scene. The plunder of the robbers is believed to be large. The bandits have escaped in the timber of the mountains.

WILL HEAR CONTEST.

Springfield, June 16.—June 27 has been settled for the hearing of the contested Republican county ticket. The county clerk nominated by the Yates-Wheeler faction has objected to the placing of the Hamilton-Butler-Brainerd ticket on the official ballot and on this the hearing will be had to determine which was the legal primary. The case will be heard by the election commissioners, Judge Murray, State's Attorney William E. Shutt and County Clerk Charles Opel. There is considerable objection to Mr. Shutt sitting on what is in many respects his own case, but there is no way of helping it.

THREE MINUTES TO SPARE.

Chicago, June 16.—Charles Stillwell, a prisoner in the Columbus, Ohio, penitentiary, was within three minutes of losing his life because of a misunderstanding regarding a reprieve. The warden of the penitentiary telegraphed Governor Herlick, now in Chicago, that Stillwell would be electrocuted at midnight unless the reprieve was confirmed. At 1:37 the governor got direct telephone communication with the warden and saved Stillwell.

A ROCKSLIDE.

Leadville, Colo., June 16.—Reports have been received of a rock slide on the Rio Grande near Leadville. A west bound passenger train has not been heard from since.

CONTESTS ARE BEING DECIDED

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE AT WORK

The Most Serious Contest, the Wisconsin Quarrel Will Be Settled To Day—Outcome Anxiously Awaited.

Chicago, June 16.—After deciding several state contests on delegateship to the Republican national convention and a number of district disputes the national committee to night adjourned until to-morrow morning, leaving the biggest fight, that from Wisconsin, still unsettled.

While there was much interest taken in the settlement of the contests in Delaware and Louisiana to day, the quarrel in Wisconsin is regarded as the most serious in the party and the outcome is anxiously awaited by Republicans and Democrats alike.

The Delaware contest was decided in favor of the Addicks delegation. Some surprise was occasioned when, by a vote of 23 to 13, the committee decided to send the delegates from Louisiana who are opposed to the "Lily White" element. As soon as the decision was announced the negro delegates had a jollification in an adjoining room.

CYCLONE IN CUBA

Great Loss of Life and Damage to Property by Wind and Water.

New York, June 16.—A cyclone accompanied by unprecedented rains caused great damage about Santiago, Cuba. Land lines between Havana and Santiago and cable communication have been interrupted for forty-eight hours.

Santiago, Cuba, June 16.—Over 100 persons were killed in the cyclone in this city and surrounding country. Santiago de Cuba, June 15, by Steamer to Manzanillo, June 16.—The worst storm of decade began Friday and terminated Monday night in fourteen inches of rain, which fell in five hours, accompanied by a hurricane. The village of El Cobre has been destroyed. Forty-five persons are known to be dead and scores are missing. Bodies are floating in the Cobre river. Twenty bodies have been recovered from the bay. The mines at Daiquiri are crippled and six employees drowned. The city's property loss is enormous. All telegraph and cable lines are disabled.

Guantanamo, Cuba, Wednesday, June 16.—(Delayed.)—The severest storm on record swept over Guantanamo Monday and Tuesday, causing loss of life and property. The steamer Thomas Brooks, plying between Hayti and Santiago, is reported to have been lost.

BURGERS ENTER RESIDENCE OF MRS. HENRY YATES.

Springfield News: Some time Tuesday night the residences of Robert Lord at Second street and Lawrence avenue and Mrs. Henry Yates at Second and Charles streets were entered by burglars and silverware and other valuables to the amount of several hundred dollars taken. The silverware taken from the Lord residence was valued in the neighborhood of $250, but was chiefly valuable as it formed part of the wedding presents given to Mr. and Mrs. Lord by their friends. The silverware taken from Mrs. Yates' home was valued at about $75. The work is believed to have been done by expert burglars from Chicago, who boarded a late train for that city. A visiting detective thought he knew who the men were and telegraphed to Chicago to have them arrested, but they have not been located.

Action Brought by Manager of Portland Mine and Moyer Against Peabody, Bell and the State.

Denver, June 16.—Former Governor Thomas is preparing papers in behalf of James E. Burns, president and manager of the Portland mine, in a damage suit against Governor Peabody, Adjutant General Bell and the state of Colorado for $50,000 for closing the Portland mine by the military.

Attorneys for Charles Moyer, president of the Western Federation, are drawing papers in a suit for $50,000 damages against Peabody, Bell and the state. Moyer's action is based on the charge of false and illegal imprisonment by military authorities.

Referring to the order of Judge Thayer for the production of Moyer before the United States circuit court at St. Louis the governor said his answer would be prepared by Attorney General Miller and expressed the opinion that when Thayer is advised that he (Peabody) had no knowledge of the procedure in court when he turned Moyer over to the civil authorities the judge will accept the answer and end the proceedings. "Should the court hold otherwise," says the governor, "as a law abiding citizen I shall follow such directions as the court may give."

The federation is getting together all men thrown out of work by the closing of the Portland mine. The miners say Manager Burns of the Portland will appeal to the federal courts and that he is certain of reopening the mine with the men he wants, free from further interference.

TO HOLD MOYER.

Cripple Creek, Colo., June 16.—Assistant District Attorney Crump to day wired Sheriff Hitt at Telluride to hold President Moyer until an agent of the mine owners' association can bring him to Cripple Creek. Moyer will be brought here on a warrant charging him with aiding and abetting the murder of Charles McCormick and Melvin Beck, who were blown up in the Victor mine by an infernal machine last November.

HERMIS AN EASY WINNER

WINS THE SUBURBAN AT SHEEPSHEAD

Makes a New Record for the Stake—Time Was 2:05—The Picket Second and Irish Lad Third.

New York, June 16.—In the presence of 6,000 people Hermis galloped home an easy winner in the Suburban at Sheepshead to day. The Picket, ridden out, was second, a head in front of the favorite, Irish Lad. The time, 2:05, is a new record for the stake, the former record being 2:06 1/4.

There was only a few moments of delay at the post and the field was sent away to a beautiful start. Hermis at once went to the front, followed by Irish Lad and The Picket in third position. Passing the club house Hermis was leading by one length over Irish Lad, who was two lengths in front of The Picket. This order was maintained at the half and into the back stretch. In the run down the back stretch Hermis was still leading. Rounding the far turn Hermis still held his advantage. Hedgeson on The Picket began to make his run and gradually closed on the leader, but was never able to catch the flying Hermis, who flashed under the wire an easy winner.

RETURNED HOME

Mallory Bros. and Brooks Re-endor a Delightful Program at Christian Church.

After a very successful season in the east, Frank and Ed Mallory, with their wives, better known by their stage names as "Gracie Halliday" and "Mazie Brooks," have returned home to spend the summer.

Last night they gave their first entertainment at the Christian church under the auspices of the Men's Social League, to a large and appreciative audience. They rendered a program of unusual merit showing conclusively that they have been working hard, improving and increasing their repertoire of musical specialties—emphasizing the fact that they rank at the top of the profession.

The first number on the program was a piano solo entitled "Bon En Taine," by Mazie Mallory, who responded to an earnest demand for an encore with "The Goodbye."

A medley by Mallory Bros. and Brooks upon the hand bells, was received with great applause and "Under the Bamboo Tree" was given by them as an encore.

The next selection was a double number by Gracie Halliday, "King Down the Curtain" and "No Disgrace." Her rendition of the latter song made a decided hit and called for one more, to which she generously responded with "Good-Bye, Liza Jane."

The fourth number, saxophone quartet, "Laughing Waters," by the Mallorys was so well received that it was necessary to respond with "H. Trovatore."

Frank Mallory, who can sing a comic song as well as play difficult instruments, next sang the "Animal Convention" and "The Man Behind."

The sixth number, a harp solo, "Ave Maria," by Mazie Brooks, who is a musician of unusual merit and versatility, called for an encore, to which she responded, rendering the "Angel Serenade."

The seventh was a double number, a vocal duet, "Anona," by Mazie Brooks and Gracie Halliday, and a solo and chorus, "Got a Feeling," by Gracie Halliday, Mazie Brooks and Frank Mallory, and was so well received an encore was necessary.

The eighth, "The Message of the Violet," harp and bells, Mallory Bros. and Brooks, and an encore, "A Medley," were of a very high standard and unusually pleasing.

The closing number, an "Imitation of a Colored Minstrel Band," capped the climax, and the audience seemed unwilling to go.

The entertainment was given for the benefit of the building fund for the new Christian church. The Men's League is to be congratulated upon the success of the entertainment. Numerous requests were heard for another program by the Mallorys at a later date, and it is possible that it may be so arranged.

WAS WASTING AWAY.

The following letter from Robert R. Watts, of Salem, Mo., is instructive: "I have been troubled with kidney disease for the last five years I lost flesh and never felt well and tried all remedies suggested without relief. ### ELGIN WOMAN IS ACCUSED

Elgin, June 15.—Miss Martha E. Lunn, 61 years old, for many years prominent in church and social affairs, was arrested on a charge of forgery. Elgin attorneys, it is stated, hold notes for collection against Miss Lunn amounting to more than $12,000. Most of the notes are signed with the names of B. E. Lunn and W. W. Teal. Mr. Teal declares his name has been forged in every instance.

It is alleged Miss Lunn has borrowed money on the forged notes from many persons at West Chicago, Wheaton, Dundee and other towns.

The alleged discovery of Miss Lunn's operations followed the resignation of her sister, Elizabeth Lunn, as treasurer of the Elgin Women's club. Early in April it was discovered that Elizabeth Lunn was a defaulter in club funds to the amount of $13,510. The club took possession of a house and lot belonging to the Misses Lunn, and G. P. Lord, a wealthy citizen of Elgin, donated $1,000 to the club and the matter was dropped.

LAWN SOCIAL.

A delightful lawn social was given last evening on the lawn at the residence of Rev. R. F. Cressey, on West North street. The social was well patronized and the proceeds are to go toward the society's pledge toward a new church building. The committee in charge were Charles Govcia, A. P. Vasconcellos, John F. Day, Miss Etienne Vieira and Mrs. W. C. Vieira.

Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 24, 1901.—For twelve years I have suffered from sweet diabetes and have spent hundreds of dollars with various doctors, with but little benefit. I was recommended to try a bottle of Texas Wonder, Hall's Great Discovery, and with cheerful testimony to the public that it did me more good than all things else put together, and am altogether another man. I have persuaded many of my friends to try it.

HINTS FOR FARMERS

Products of a Spanish Merino.

Some years ago James A. Belknap, a prominent citizen of Yates county, N. Y., bought seven Merino ewes from a Vermont dealer for $700. From one of these ewes a buck lamb was produced which at one year's growth sheared fifty-three pounds, and the same year a fleece was taken from him weighing twelve pounds. The second year the animal weighed eighty pounds, and a fleece was sheared from him weighing eighteen pounds. The third year the animal weighed 104 pounds, and he sheared thirty pounds. The wool was fully two and a half inches long and was very white and fine. At each time he was sheared by the same man, Mr. Loren Thomas, at three successive sheep shearing contests on the grounds of the Yates County Agricultural society at Penn Yan, and the buck referred to surpassed all other sheep of equal age on each occasion.—Stockman and Farmer.

Handling Live Stock.

The live stock shippers of the country have reason to expect better railroad service as methods of transportation improve, but for several years progress has been in the other direction. Vexatious delays of live stock trains have cost the shippers an enormous amount of money in the past three years. Live stock is a perishable product. It must be moved with reasonable celerity or loss will result. Yet many a shipper has had to see his stock suffering and shrinking on a siding while trains loaded with nonperishable products steamed past. That transportation companies are meeting with great difficulty in handling their enormous business with dispatch is evident, but that they are fully awake to the importance of prompt movement of live stock is doubtful.

The Value of Wool.

The accurate value of wool cannot be ascertained unless it be sorted and scoured. Then and then only is it reduced by a mechanical and mathematical process to a basis of exact value. There is no waste in sorting and scouring wool; it is all worked into its proper place, each sort or grade found in each fleece is sold separately upon its merit, and the best wool brings the highest price. This is one reason why the mill buyer prefers buying his wool already sorted and scoured. He then knows just what he is getting without any doubt as to shrinkage and development. He can buy his wool on the same basis and with the same confidence that the weaver buys his yarn or the tailor his cloth.

Best Time to Fatten.

The best temperature for fattening any animal is when the thermometer ranges from 55 to 70 degrees, or is outside of those points but a little while at a time. They seem to have a better appetite than when it is warmer, and there is not as much of the food required to keep up the heat of the system as when it is colder. The grocer food, if properly used, aids digestion, and a shrewd farmer should fatten cows, sheep or swine at this season, so that he would feel that he had made a profit even on the cow beef that sells at a low price. Especially should this be the case with such cows as are unprofitable because they put their food into beef instead of milk.—American Cultivator.

Getting Rid of Plant Lice.

To kill plant lice on trees dissolve one pound of white oil soap in eight to ten gallons of water. This can be sprayed without injuring the foliage. Care should be taken that it reaches the insects, otherwise it will not affect them. The spray is one that kills by contact and must therefore reach the bodies of the insects direct. A pound of tobacco dust, the stems steeped and boiled in water for one hour and diluted with four gallons of water, will also destroy plant lice.

British Corn Imports.

The "Corn Trade Year Book," just published in London, estimates that in consequence of the unfavorable summer of 1903 only 3,500,000 quarters of British wheat will reach the mills, making it necessary to import 27,000,000 quarters of foreign and colonial wheat. Ten years ago Britain took 70 per cent of her grain from the United States. In 1903 she took only about 40 per cent, Argentina and Russia taking the place of the United States.

Homogenizing Milk.

The process of homogenizing milk—perfected by Gaulin of Paris—consists in forcing the milk, at about 185 degrees F., from a closed drum in very fine jets against a porcelain plate. The fat globules are broken up into very minute particles. There is no subsequent tendency for cream to rise, digestibility is not affected and when combined with pasteurization the treated milk keeps a long time unclanged.

Spring Treatment of Old Pastures.

After the ground settles run a sharp harrow over the old pastures which stock have tramped over throughout the winter. It will loosen up the roots of the grass and pulverize and scatter the droppings. If a roller is run over timothy and clover meadows it will be of great benefit, as the roots raised by freezing and thawing will be pressed back into the soil.

The Production of Salt.

The United States leads the world in the production of salt, the annual production exceeding 20,000,000 barrels. Michigan and New York each produce about 7,000,000 barrels. The United States produces about 23 per cent of the world's supply. Germany is the second largest producer, France third.

THE DISCOVERER OF ## SEVEN BARKS

Was, thirty-five years ago, one of Germany's foremost physicians, besides he was a celebrated botanist and chemist. His discoveries were many and invariably successful. Perhaps his most important discovery was that of the great and popular preparation called Seven Barks—extracted from the bark of a specially grown Hydrangea plant. This bark grows in seven layers, each division possessing wonderful individual curative values. One acts as a gentle cathartic, another as an astringent, the third as a diuretic, the fourth as an expectorant—while the other three layers produce wonderful, upbuilding tonic elements.

Most All Disease

Contains nature-giving principles that will effect immediate relief and, in good time, a permanent cure of all such disorders. One 50-cent bottle will demonstrate its phenomenal value.

To convince you that it is the richest of all restoratives and that it makes solid flesh, muscle and strength, weigh yourself before taking it, and see what wonders it will do. This is the only remedy that has been able to stand such a severe test. It builds you up. Each dose means new life, vitality and strength. Try it. You can't go wrong. ### SCIENCE PREVENTS BALDNESS.

The Fatal Germ and Its Remedy Now Facts of Science.

It is the rarest thing in the world for a man to be necessarily bald. No man whose hair is not dead at the roots, need be bald if he will use Newbro's Herpicide, the new scalp antiseptic. Herpicide destroys the germ that cuts the hair off at the root, and cleans the scalp of dandruff and leaves it in a perfectly healthy condition. Mr. Mannett, in the Maryland Block, Butte, Mont., was entirely bald. In less than a month Herpicide had removed the enemies of hair growth, and nature did its work by covering his head with thick hair an inch long, and in six weeks he had a normal suit of hair. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

GETTING TO THE PARK.

It has always been a source of regret that the street car line does not go as far as the new park, but an agreement has been promised which will help the matter materially. Miss Frances Hook, manager of the street car line in this city, has agreed to sell a round trip ticket to the park for ten cents, dividing even with any person who will haul the people from the south end of the street car line to the park and back. By this means a man might make reasonable wages evenings and especially days when there are unusual attractions at the place. In this way Miss Hook would get five cents and the man with the wagon five cents for each passenger handled. The distance from the street railway to the entrance of the park is half a mile. A man could easily haul twenty at a time, which would allow him fifty cents a trip each way, and he would undoubtedly get considerable business as soon as it is understood that the arrangement is in operation. The pavilion is rapidly approaching completion and now there are plenty of nice places on the grounds for picnics and all kinds of gatherings and the completion of the pavilion will largely increase these facilities for enjoyment. Fishing time will begin to morrow and that will add to the attractions. Any person who thinks he could make some money in the way indicated is requested to confer with Miss Hook, or the chairman or secretary of the park commission.

Little Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rose of Orleans Meets Death as Result of Accident.

Louisa, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rose, who reside on the Drury farm near Orleans, met with a terrible accident Wednesday, which resulted in her death Thursday morning.

The child, by some chance, fell into a tub of scalding water and before she could be rescued by her mother, was terribly burned. The injuries were so extensive as to leave no hope for recovery, and although the little one lingered through the night, death came as a relief to her sufferings the next morning.

Coroner Reynolds was notified Thursday afternoon and went to Orleans in the evening, where he summoned a jury and held an inquest at 7 o'clock.

Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been made.

THE MATRIMONIAL RECORD.

HENRY-LONERGAN.

Thursday night at 8 o'clock, at the residence of Father Crowe, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Mamie Cecilia Longergan to Jesse L. Henry, of East St. Louis, Father Crowe officiating. Only immediate relatives were present to witness the simple, yet impressive services which united for life representatives of two well known families in this county. The attendants were Miss Susie Smith and Walter D. Longergan, a brother of the bride.

The bride was handsomely attired in a tailored gown of blue French voile and wore a hat trimmed with foliage and blue moiré. Her traveling suit was a brown messaline with hat to match.

Both young people are well known in this city, coming from families who have long been residents of the county. Although the bride has only been a resident of Jacksonville during the past two years, yet by her cordial and kindly manner she has made many friends. Two years ago, in company with Miss Susie Smith, of Peoria, she came to this city and opened a millinery store under the firm name of Longergan & Smith, which has met with large success, becoming one of the leading stores in its line in the city.

The groom formerly resided near Woodson, but for some time has lived in East St. Louis, where he is a partner in the commission firm of Charles E. Henry & Sons. He is a young man of excellent standing, reliable, industrious and the success he has attained in his chosen line of work places him among the rising young business men of East St. Louis. He was formerly a student at Whipple academy in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry left Thursday evening for a western trip and after July 15 will be at home at 424 Brighton Place, East St. Louis.

SPERRY-MARSHALL.

The wedding of George Sperry and Miss Leona Marshall was solemnized Thursday evening at the new home of the groom on Prairie street. Only the most intimate friends and relatives of the couple were present. Rev. R. F. Cressy said the beautiful service. Wesley Sperry acted as best man and Miss Maude Marshall as maid of honor.

The groom is an industrious and upright young man, well thought of by all who know him.

The bride is a charming and popular young lady of this city.

SMITH-SCOTT.

Harry Smith and Miss Lena Scott were married at Winchester Wednesday. The groom is a son of James Smith, a well known citizen who lives a few miles east of the city. The bride was a resident of Canton, Ill.

THE SEVENTH RECITAL

Of the Jeffries Orchestra and Concert Band in Conservatory Hall.

Truly it can be said that the city of Jacksonville appreciates its artists and musicians, judging by the way the Jeffries' orchestra and Concert band were treated last night at Conservatory hall, for the place was packed almost to suffocation, while an audience about half as large enjoyed the music from the street below. The number last night was the last one that will be given before fall, the one yet due having been postponed on account of the warm weather, which is somewhat oppressive in the apartment under the control of the band. The large audience was in full sympathy with the performers and encouraged about every number that was given, so that the ticket holders most certainly received full value for their money, as the musicians kindly responded every time they were recalled. The soloists deserve especial mention, as their playing was superb.

Miss Hazel Brown's reputation is so well established that no one is surprised when she does superior work with that wonderful instrument, the violin. The selections last night were somewhat difficult, but the talented young lady had no difficulty in interpreting them capably, and she received such an ovation as was her due and would have been tendered a professional.

Miss Emma Wharton is rapidly gaining fame as a vocalist, and last night she added fresh laurels to her reputation by her excellent singing. She has a sweet voice, flexible, clear and of wonderful capacity and the manner in which she uses it shows the artist in every note. Of course she was called back and favored her enthusiastic admirers with a second number and both were so sweet and pleasing that the audience would have been glad for a third.

Burford Hayden has made a specialty of the wee instrument which makes music wholly out of proportion to its size when in the hands of an able musician, such as Mr. Hayden has proved himself to be. He has grown up with the band and has studied to make the piccolo his own and has succeeded admirably. His treatment was enthusiastic, as was that of the others, and he graciously responded.

The members of the band, the leader and all are to be congratulated on the fine work done and the reputation gained. The following was the program.

FUNERALS.

ADAMS.

Funeral services over the remains of J. Arthur Adams were held at Trinity Episcopal church Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of sorrowing relatives and friends. The impressive service of the Episcopal church was conducted by Rev. J. F. John, and the church choir furnished appropriate music.

There were many beautiful floral designs, which typified the esteem in which the deceased was held. These were in charge of Miss Georgia Taylor, Ella Crawford, Mary Lindsay and Mamie Wright.

After the conclusion of the services at the church the remains were taken to Diamond Grove cemetery, where, after a brief service at the grave side, conducted by Rev. Mr. John, they were consigned to the earth. Those who acted as bearers were Vincent Riley, Fenton Sanders, Frank Byrns, H. M. Ticknor, Alfred Erickson and Dillon Swingle.

Nearly all the cigar factories of the city were closed in order that the employees might attend the funeral, and the Cigarmakers' union, of which the deceased was a member, attended in a body.

The members of Jacksonville lodge No. 682, B. P. O. E., also attended the services in a body.

The officials were met at the station here by a number of the local business men and matters concerning freight interests were freely discussed. The purpose of this trip of the officials is to consult with the patrons of the road in order to learn their needs as nearly as possible. They believe that such conferences will be of benefit to both the company and the shippers, and will establish a better mutual understanding.

When questioned in regard to the probability of the construction of a new passenger station and freight house here they had nothing to say, except that it was out of their province, as they are looking after freight traffic interests only. They recognized the needs of the city in this respect, and expressed a willingness to do anything they could by bringing the matter to the attention of President Felton.

The party remained in the yards for about thirty minutes and then left for Carrollton, which will be the limit of their trip. General Manager Goodnow did not accompany the party, as was expected.

THE DEATH RECORD.

ALFORD.

Mrs. William Alford passed away at Passavant hospital Wednesday evening at 11:30 o'clock, after an acute illness lasting less than two weeks. She had been in feeble health for two years or more, but her death came very unexpectedly to her relatives and friends. She was brought to the hospital on Tuesday.

Mrs. Alford was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Spies and was born near Franklin fifty-two years ago. In 1876 she was married to William Alford and her husband and four children are left to mourn the death of a kind and loving mother and devoted wife.

Mrs. Alford was a woman of earnestness of purpose and as long as her health permitted aided in all worthy enterprises and was a woman highly respected by a wide circle of friends. Her death will bring sadness to many hearts. She was a consistent member of the Providence M. E. church and was always ready to aid in promoting its welfare.

She is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Sallie Conlee, of Waverly, and Mrs. E. D. Seymour, of Franklin; and by two brothers, John Spies, of Waverly, and Harvey Spies, of Franklin.

The remains were taken to Franklin on the afternoon train yesterday and the funeral will be held at the Providence church to day at 1 o'clock.

CAPPS.

The following obituary notice of John T. Capps, of Springfield, brief notice of whose death appeared in Thursday's paper, is taken from the Springfield News:

John T. Capps, secretary-treasurer and manager of the Springfield woolen mills, died very suddenly at his home yesterday afternoon. He had been in ill health for some time and his illness was known to be of a serious nature, although his recent condition had not given cause for alarm. A short time before his death yesterday afternoon he was walking about in different parts of the house and in passing his wife's room he stopped at the door for a moment and spoke to her. After leaving her room he went to his own room and lay down on the bed. He was heard to gasp shortly afterward and the nurse, rushing to his assistance, found him dead. The suddenness of his death is a great blow to the family and especially to Mrs. Capps, who has been seriously ill for some time.

So unexpected was Mr. Capps' death that his son, W. Lee Capps, had left the woolen mills without leaving any direction where he was going and he did not know of his father's death for some time after it occurred.

Mr. Capps was one of the foremost business men in Springfield and he has been identified with many of the improvements of the city during his long residence here. He was born Dec. 30, 1841, near Winchester, Ky., and was 62 years old at the time of his death. His father died while he was still a boy and his mother and her children came to Illinois and settled at Greenfield, where Mr. Capps grew to manhood. He resided in Jacksonville with the family of his uncle, Joseph Capps, for a time and was a student in Illinois college at the time of the breaking out of the civil war. He left school and enlisted in the army at Jacksonville in 1861 in the Tenth infantry. He served the three years of his first enlistment and then re-enlisted. When he was mustered out at the close of the war, in 1865, he had risen from the ranks to quartermaster of the regiment. With his regiment he saw some hard service and accompanied Sherman on his march to the sea. He was present at the battles of Chattanooga, Lookout Mountain, Missionary Ridge and Atlanta.

At the close of the war he took a course in the business college at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., and returning to Illinois from there he has since resided in Springfield. He entered the employ of the woolen mills here as a bookkeeper and he has steadily risen from that position to be manager and secretary.

Mr. Capps has taken an active interest in politics and has been a staunch supporter of the Republican party and its policies. While he was not an office seeker, his excellent business judgment and his high character as a citizen led his neighbors to honor him several times with positions of responsibility. He was a member of the board of education for six years and took a great interest in the building up of the public schools. He also served as a member of the county board of supervisors for several terms and was one of the earnest working members of that body. He was a man of deep religious convictions and took an active part in church and benevolent work. He was a life long member of the Methodist church and was a member of the board of trustees of the First church of this city. He was one of the originators of the Young Men's Christian association work in this city and served on the board of directors of the local association. He was one of the most active factors in the organization of the associated charities and a member of its first board of directors. Mr. Capps was also a member of Model Post, Grand Army of the Republic.

Mr. Capps led a busy and useful life and one that was devoid of anything like idleness. He was a simple, earnest man whose force of influence lay in these very qualities of simplicity and earnestness. He was honest, honorable and just in his dealings and his friendship was valued for its true worth. He will be greatly missed in this community. Mr. Capps married Miss Laura Lee of this city, daughter of a former well known citizen of Springfield, in 1867. She, with her two children, Mrs. Olive Irwin, of LaGrange, Ill., and W. Lee Capps, of this city, survive him. He leaves also two brothers, Caleb Capps, of Palmyra, and Thornton Capps, of Greenfield, and several half brothers and sisters: Charles G. Gray, of this city; Newton Gray and Mrs. Anna VanArsdale, of Elmhurst, Cal., and Mrs. Lucy Henderson, of Whitehall, Ill. He had a number of relatives in Jacksonville, where he was well known.

The Cause of the Trouble.

Barclay—I don't see why you should be cynical on the subject of marriage. Your wife is of such a happy disposition, always singing as she goes about her housework.

Diddie—Yes, that's where the trouble comes in—that singing of hers.—Boston Transcript.

Tommy.

"You have been fighting again, Tommy."

"I couldn't help it, mamma. That Stapleford boy assed me."

"You should have remembered that a soft answer turneth away wrath" and given him a soft answer."

"I did. I hit him with a chunk of mud."—Chicago Tribune.

Sample.

"George didn't keep his engagement with me last night," said the girl who was betrothed to him.

"I'd give him a piece of my mind," said her mother.

"Just a little sample of married life," suggested the father.—Cleveland Leader.

Danger Avoided.

Daughter—Is it really bad form to go shopping without a chapereon?

Mrs. De Style—Excessively. Young ladies who shop without a chapereon are almost sure to forget themselves and buy things.—New York Weekly.

Quite True.

She (as the crowd surges around her)—Oh, dear, I'm really afraid to get into this awful jam!

He—Well, just stick close to me, and we may possibly be preserved.—Harvard Lampoon.

Her Reason.

"She doesn't go in for athletics, does she?"

"No. She says she looks so much better in clinging gowns and French effects."—Detroit Free Press.

His Love.

"My love for you," he said, "is as everlasting as time, as wide as the sky and as deep as the sea."

"Yes," she answered, "and I guess it's as soft as mush."
